Weather forecast

Good morning! This is Rainbow Rachel coming to you on this Saturday morning. It is early September and summer is still in the air. Good news for us New York rats!

I walked to the studio this morning, and I ran into my friend Ramona. She invited me to share some nice leftovers with her. We had a bag of chips and the most part of a hamburger. I just love ketchup, but now I'm thirsty! Maybe one of you listeners can bring me some apple juice?

Anyway, back to the weather. This will be a very nice day. We expect temperatures to be around 60 and 65 degrees. There will be light winds in the afternoon. It does not look like there will be any rain today at all.

Tomorrow, there might be some light rain showers in the morning. Temperatures will be lower and there might be some heavier winds in the afternoon.

And as I have been talking, a friendly listener has been kind enough to give me a big bottle of apple juice. Thank you, Amanda! To show you how much I appreciate it, I will play your favourite song later.

Make sure you enjoy this sunny weather while you can. Take care and enjoy Amanda's favourite song, Love to roam by the Raving Rats.

Save the rats of New York!

By Ratbert Rawlings

I have now been on holiday in the greatest city in the world. It has been a wonderful experience in many ways. The rats in this town are friendly, and they have great entertainment.

I have listened to Radio Rat Pack and I have read the Ratpack News. It is so easy to know where to go for a good snack and where to hide from cats and humans when you get tips from the friendly local rats at Rat Pack Media.

New York City is dangerous, too dangerous in many ways. You cannot cross the street without the risk of getting trampled on by humans and dogs. They are everywhere! And the dogs are scary enough with their big teeth and dripping tongues. Therefore, we need our good friends at the radio station to help us. They tell us which roads are safe and which are dangerous to us rats.

So why am I telling you this? Well, unless we can raise some money, Radio Rat Pack will have to give up. They need 70 dollars to keep working for the next year. That is a huge sum for a rat, but we can't give up! Get out there, collect pennies and quarters, and donate to this good cause!

I worry that there will be lots of rats getting hurt and killed if we cannot keep our radio station. Who else can we rely on to tell us all we need to know?

The rats of New York need your help. Please donate now!

Write T for true or F for false.
Sett T for true eller F for false.
